MARINES LANDED IN CUBA TO SAVE SUGAR PROPERTY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless) NEW YORK, N. Y., March 1.—Cuban rebels are assuming desperate methodand growers in the island fear destructions of the growing sugar cane crops, according to despatches from Havana last night, and American marines have been landed at Guantanamo to protect the sugar estates and other property.

Managers of plantations in the province of Oriente, western Cuba, report that the rebel gangs have threatened destruction of the growing cane crops

The military governor of the province and the commanders of Amer decided to order the sugar estates to resume operations immediately. Many of the 180 centrals that had been grinding at the time the revolt broke out have closed down because of the

The American consular agent at An tilla, according to despatches from Cuba, was arrested by the rebels and held prisoner for two hours. Americans in the vicinity were aroused and forced the release of the representative of the United States.

Another Havana despatch reported crops, according to dispatches from fire set by the rebels had become so great that United States marines were set to guarding the estates. Commanders of the American warships held a conference on the situation and decided to land the marines at Guantanamo, placing guards over other industrial plants as well as the sugar centrals.

The growing sugar cane is now so dry that fires will be particularly destructive, it is reported. Advices from Santiago de las Vegas are that fires have been of almost daily occurrence and are generally believed to be in-

GERMANY'S SCHEME TO POPE U.S., JAPAN AND MEXICO IN WAR LABILLARE IN ZIMMERMAN'S NOTE

(Continu from page one) ing the entire matter, signed by Doctor Zimmer an, the German minister of foreign affairs, at Berlin on Janu-

These instructions were addressed to von Eckhardt, the German minister at the City of Mexico, and were transmitted to that minister through Count von Bernstorff, the erstwhile German ambassador to the United

These instructions to von Eckhardt proposes that an alliance be made between Germany and Mexico and that Japan be invited to join, the three nations to unite in a war upon the United States. The terms of the progress a alliance, as outlined, include the following:

"We will make war together and together we will make peace." "We will give general financial support to Mexico to enable her to reconquer the territory lost to her to the United States namely the states of New Mexico, Texas and Arizona." "The details of this arrangement are left to you to settle. You are instructed to inform the President of Mexico of the above, in the strictest confidence, as soon as war is declared between the United States and Germany, with the suggestion that he communicate the terms to Japan, suggesting the immediate adherence of that nation to this plan.

Suggest to the President of Mexico that, at the same time as he communicates the above to Japan he offer his services as a mediator between Japan and Germany." "Call to the attention of the President of Mexico the fact that the submarine warfare we intend to put into ican warships held a conference and operation promises to compel England to make terms of peace within a few months." This document, proving that the German government expected to be at war with the United States, over the question of the unrestricted use of her submarines, a week before the notice regarding the intention to carry on this style of warfare was despatched to the United States, has been in the hands of the president from the day diplomatic relations with Germany were severed.

It is considered as a sufficient answer to the plaint of von Bethmann-Hollweg that the United States acted brusquely in severing diplomatic relations following the German announcement of unrestricted submarine warfare. The possession of the document confirms the reports that have been in circulation that the Germans, through the connivance of the Carranza authorities, have been able to establish submarine bases along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. The revelations of the plotting carried on almost within the shadow of the dome of the Capitol are regarded also as confirmation of the belief held in army circles that if Japan ever should attempt to invade the United States it would be through Mexico and into the Mississippi valley, with the object of splitting the country. Yesterday, from San Diego, reports were received here, corroborating previous reports, of the movements of a German steamer, which is plying along the Mexican Pacific coast. It is thought that this vessel is at work for the possible purpose of collecting stores for submarines or for some raider which it may be the intention of Germany to turn loose in the Pacific against Entente and American shipping. it is learned that a powerful radio station has been erected on the Mexican Pacific coast, manned probably by Germans. This plant is in operation, located south of Turtle Bay. The announcement of these German operations on the Pacific coast of Mexico and the attempt made to bring about joint action by Germany and Japan, recalls the announcement made a few days ago that a complete cartridge manufacturing plant had just been received at Manzanillo from Japan, with 200 Japanese experts to put the plant into immediate operation. It was announced at the time that with this plant Mexico expected to be made independent of outside munition plants.
